VAS Spring Meeting

Greetings!

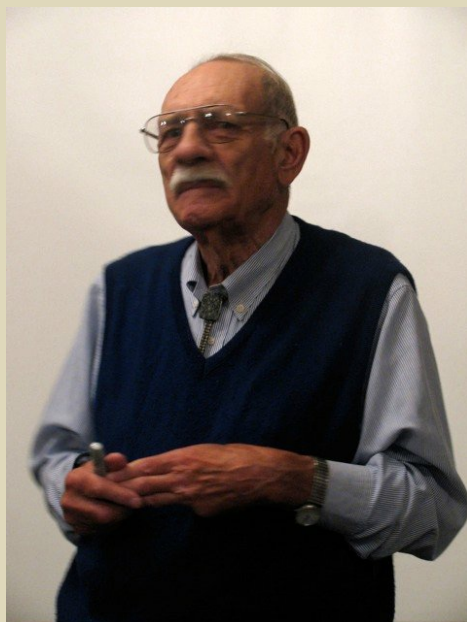

The VAS Spring Meeting will be held this year in Bennington. The program is still a work in progress but will include an overview of the multiyear work at the Homer Stone Quartzite Quarry and a presentation on the Bishop Homestead in Marlboro. The VAS has been approached to help in studying this site.

There will also be a tour of Old Bennington by Jane Radocchia. Additional information and a complete schedule will be available soon on the VAS Web site.

Membership Dues

Just a reminder that memberships run from January 1 through December 31. And remember, membership dues are our main source of income. If you have not done so already, please renew your membership (or join) using the application below or through our Web site.

Victor Rolando Retires as Vermont Journal of Archaeology Editor

NH Archaeological Society News

Since 2000, Victor Rolando has been editing the Vermont Journal of Archaeology - Volumes 3 through 12. He has done this without fanfare (or pay) diligently and professionally.

Most readers do not, cannot, know the amount of work that goes into recruiting authors, editing articles, typesetting the Journal, arranging for printing, and finally mailing the completed Journals to the membership. It is a tedious, time-intensive, but ultimately rewarding job.

Vic has tendered his resignation to the Board and we want to thank him for his many years of service. As the co-editor (really only proofreader) for the past few years I can attest to the amount of commitment the job of Editor entails.

A replacement has been approached and we hope that next month we can confirm the new editor.

For now the Officers and Board as well as the entire membership of the VAS can only say - once again - THANK YOU VIC!

All VAS memberships are renewable as of January 1st.
